

Basic Weebly Website

20 points

This will be a mini-project for you to complete by the end of the summer session. The purpose of this activity is to begin to plan and develop your digital portfolio, which is a requirement of the Instructional Technology and Leadership doctoral program.

Part One

Due: Next week

Develop and map out your information architecture to your website. You will need to determine the main navigation of your portfolio website and what secondary pages and documents will be found under each section. Note: I understand you have not been in the program long, so you may not have many materials, but plan to put the work you develop for this course into your portfolio.

Part Two

Due: Last Class

You will submit the start of your digital portfolio for the program. This will include a design, main navigation, and all of your assignments from this course posted. For each of your assignments for this course, you will post a mini reflection of each assignment (2-3 sentences) to be included as the description for that piece.

Resources

Please check the "Web Resources" folder on Blackboard to see tutorials and examples of other digital portfolio websites. I will also be tweeting throughout the semester, so pay attention to any tagged with #digitalportfolio. (@profstrahler)
